BY THE LAST MAILS.

NEW YORK, May 14.

The brig Alonzo, which arrived at this port yesterday, left Bordeaux on the 4th of April, and the river on the 8th. It was currently reported that she brought Paris papers containing bulletins from the grand army to the 73d, and that they announced the complete overthrow of the Russians under gen. Bennington, who was represented to be a prisoner. We do not learn, however, that her Paris papers are later than the 30th of March. A file of these is in possession of the editor of the Mercantile Advertiser. It furnishes us with two additional bulletins (the 65th and 66th) and these are the only articles of sufficient interest to be worth translating.

Gen. Bennington, according to our last accounts of him, was sick at Koningsberg.

Translated for the Mercantile Advertiser.

FRENCH GRAND ARMY.

Sixty-Fifth Bulletin.

Osterode, 10th March, 1807.
The army is cantoned behind the Passarge. The prince of Ponte Corvo at Holland and at Braunsburg.

Marshal Soult at Leibstadt and Mohrungen.

Marshal Ney at Gustadt.

Marshal Davout at Allenstein, Hohenstein, and Dieppen.

The head-quarters are at Osterode.

The Polish corps of observation, commanded by general Zayonchek, is at Neidenburg.

The corps of marshal Lefebvre before Dantzig.

The 5th corps on the Omulew.

A Bavarian division, commanded by the prince royal of Bavaria, at Warsaw.

The corps of prince Jerome in Silesia; the 8th corps of observation in Swedish Pomerania.

The places of Breslau, Schweidnitz, and Brieg are demolishing.

General Rapp, aid-de-camp of the emperor, is governor of Thorn.

We have thrown bridges over the Vistula at Marienburg and Drischau.

Having been informed, on the 1st of March, that the enemy, encouraged by the position which the army had taken, had shewed themselves all along the right bank of the Passarge, the emperor ordered marshals Soult and Ney to reconnoitre, and to advance to repulse them. Marshal Ney marched on the Gutstadt; marshal Soult passed the Passarge at Wormit. The enemy immediately made a general movement, and retreated towards Koningsberg. Their pos's, which had retired in great haste, were pursued 3 leagues. Seeing that the French did not make any other movement, and that they were pursued only by the advanced guards who had left their regiments, two regiments of Russian grenadiers returned back, and in the night approached the cantonment of Zochern. The 50th regiment received them with the bayonet. The 27th and the 39th behaved in the same manner.

In these little combats the Russians have had one thousand men killed, wounded, or prisoners.

After being thus assured of the movements of the enemy, the army has returned into its cantonments.

The grand duke of Berg, informed that a corps of cavalry had approached Willemberg, caused it to be attacked by prince Borghese, who at the head of his regiment, charged eight Russian squadrons, overthrew and put them to the rout, and made about 100 prisoners, amongst whom are 3 captains and 8 subalterns.

Marshal Lefebvre has entirely surrounded Dantzig, and has begun at that place the works of circumvallation.

Sixty-Sixth Bulletin.

Osterode, March 14.

The grand army continues in cantonments, where it is taking repose. Little combats have taken place between the advanced posts of the two armies. Two regiments of Russian cavalry came on the 12th to disturb the 69th regiment of infantry of the line in its cantonment of Lingnau, and before Gutstadt. One battalion of that regiment took arms, ambushed themselves, and fired close to the enemy, who left 80 men on the field. General Guyot, who commanded the advanced posts of marshal Soult, has had several engagements which have terminated to his advantage.

After the little battle of Willemberg, the grand duke of Berg has driven all the cossacks from the right bank of the Elbe, in order to assure himself that the enemy was not concealing some movement. He came to Wartembourg, Seeburg, Meusguth, and Bischoffsbourg. He has had some engagements with the enemy's cavalry, and has made about one hundred Cossack prisoners.

The Russian army have begun to concentrate the coast of Bartenstein on the Alle; the Russian division on the coast of Creutzbourg.

The enemy has made a movement of one day's march towards Koningsberg. The whole of the French army is cantoned and is supplied with provisions from the cities of Elbing, Braunsberg, and from the resources which are brought from the isle of Nogat, which is of very great fertility.

Gen. Toulier has invested Colberg.

A division of 12,000 Bavarians, commanded by the prince royal of Bavaria, has passed the Vistula at Warssw, and has just rejoined the army.

PHILADELPHIA May 15.

Latest from Europe.

Yesterdays arrived the fast sailing ship Brutus, captain Craig from Londonderry, with passengers. By the attention of those concerned, we are favored with Dublin papers to the 28th of March, and Derry papers to the 7th of April, from which we have only time and room for the following.

LONDONDERRY, April 7.

Notwithstanding a number of those deluded persons denominated Threshers, have been found guilty and received sentence of death at the last assizes of Sligo, and notwithstanding the wholesome lesson which the late special commission, which was sent into that part of the country, should have afforded them; yet such is their blind delusion, that they are still continuing their depredations in that part of the country.

The ship Westpoint, Thompson, and the American, Smith, for New York, are cleared out, and will sail the first fair wind.

According to letters from Hamburg and Altona, considerable apprehensions were entertained in the former city of the landing of an English force either in the Elbe or some contiguous ports in the Baltic. So general was this impression that the French commandant and minister both prepared for a retreat.

A strong rumour again prevails, that Austria, has drawn the sword against France.

DOVER, March 30.

By a ship which arrived in the Roads this afternoon from the Texel we learn that accounts had reached Holland of the Austrians having taken the field against the French, and that the latter were retreating out of Poland in all directions. It was ascertained that the diplomatic corps had already arrived at Berlin, and had brought miserable accounts of the state of the French army.

A letter from Gottenburg states that part of the 500,000 sent by the British government to the emperor of Russia had been detained at that place. The probability however is, that the part alluded to has been allowed to remain at Gottenburg as part of the subsidy due by Russia to Sweden. The bullion left there for that purpose, is contained in 64 casks of 5,000 dollars each.

An account from the seat of war received through a most respectable channel, adds great weight to the statements we have already given of the deplorable situation of the French army. It is described as retreating with great rapidity, and in much confusion, and so daily harassed by the Cossacks, that numbers continue to be made prisoners. It is added that when Bonaparte's proposal for an armistice was rejected, he really sent to general Bennigsen, to request that a species of warfare less severe might be adopted. This extraordinary message is supposed to have originated in the remonstrances of some of his generals, owing to the French army having been no less than 8 days without bread!!

April 1.

Yesterday a mail from Husum arrived, bringing Hamburg and Altona papers to the 26th ult. The French headquarters were at Osterode on the 12th ult, and this, we believe, is the latest intelligence which has been received from that quarter. A letter from East Prussia, of the 18th ult, mentions that they continued there on the preceding day, but this is probably a mistake. The latest intelligence from Berlin is of the 21st, and it is almost impossible that news from East Prussia, considering the difficulties of communication, could have reached that city in four days.

The continental journals are so extremely reserved respecting the transaction in Poland, that it is not easy to discover what is doing there. We can, however, perceive that Bonaparte is not likely to repass the Vistula without once more appealing to his fortune. The part of his army which has been confined to Massena, has been strongly reinforced. Uncommon efforts have been employed to fill up the immense void produced in the French army by the sanguinary conflicts in which it has been lately engaged; and, if general Bennington can maintain himself for a very short time will be brought to bear against him, we are not very apprehensive of his ultimate success.

FRANKFORT, March 10.
By several letters from Vienna, we learn,
that general Michelson, whose army is numerous, has received orders to send the greater part to succor the army under general Bennington. His orders are, to remain with the remainder to maintain his position at present, and to avoid all offensive operations. In consequence, the Russians are remaining on the defensive.

The Turkish government has not relaxed in its preparations. As soon as the 15-inflections expected from Asir, shall arrive at Adrianople, the Grand Vizier, with all the generals, will depart, and act on the offensive, to drive the Russians out of Moldavia and Wallachia. The plan of operations has been agreed upon between the Grand Vizier and general Lebasiani, the French ambassador, who enjoys the fullest confidence of the Grand Seignor and the Divan.

DENMARK, March 8.
Our court has notified to the ambassador of his Britannic majesty, that they have viewed with displeasure an English fleet in the Baltic.

ALTONA, March 12.
The Danish government has given orders to its subjects, to furnish the corps under marshal Mortier, with every thing in their power.

Several persons of rank have received orders to quit Petersburg, in consequence of being accused of speaking too freely of the events of the war and laying the fault
on the government.

WARSAW, March 6.
Prince of Benevento, minister of exterior relations, who has lately arrived from the imperial head-quarters at Osterode, previous to his return transmitted a note to the foreign ambassadors, informing them, that they must return to Berlin with their units.

breed of Rachells, where they blockaded five French ships of the line and two frigates.

"St. Martins, Isle-de-Rhe, March 22, 1807.
"I was boarded on my passage from Bilbao, within sight of the Isle-de-Rhe, by a British ship of the line, belonging to the squadron which is now off your port. The lieutenant, after examining my papers, wrote the following on the back of my sea letter: 'I hereby warn Thomas Williams, master of the schooner Eleanor, not to proceed to any other port except the Isle de-Rhe.'

"LIEUT. OF HIS MAJESTY'S SHIP MARS, March 17, 1807."

"I asked him the reason, 'That is not for you to know,' said he, 'only take care and go to no other port—if you do, you will be a lawful prize;' he then said he intended to examine my hold—I told him I had not any thing on board but ballast—he took my word for it, and after repeating, it I went to any other port I should be a lawful prize, got in his boat and went on board. I lay by some time before they made a signal for me to proceed.

"I do not know what he meant by the above, for if I should be a lawful prize from Bilbao to any other port in France, why not to the Isle-de-Rhe? However, I presume he either had not instructions to take vessels from one enemies port to another in ballast, or else I was not worth taking.

"I remain, &c.

"THOS. WILLIAMS."

LATE FROM EUROPE.

Yesterday arrived the ship Missouri, captain Kennedy, from Rochelle, and has favored us with Paris papers to the 25th of March, from which we have made the following translations:

MILAN, March 17.
By several arrivals at Acuna, from Constantinople, we learn, that on the 12th of February, all the Russian merchant vessels in that port were seized, and that two frigates with troops for Corfu, in attempting to pass the Dardanelles, were also captured.

BREELAW, March 9.
By several deserters that have escaped from Kosel, we learn, that a part of the garrison had joined the inhabitants in the determination to compel the government to capitulate immediately.

A military commission, appointed by his highness prince Jerome, has condemned to death ensign Wensurky, of a Prussian regiment, for breaking his parole of honor in serving against France.

FRANKFORT, March 10.
By several letters from Vienna, we learn,
that general Michelson, whose army is numerous, has received orders to send the greater part to succor the army under general Bennington. His orders are, to remain with the remainder to maintain his position at present, and to avoid all offen-

The Turkish government has not relaxed in its preparations. As soon as the 15-inflections expected from Asir, shall arrive at Adrianople, the Grand Vizier, with all the generals, will depart, and act on the offensive, to drive the Russians out of Moldavia and Wallachia. The plan of operations has been agreed upon between the Grand Vizier and general Lebasiani, the French ambassador, who enjoys the fullest confidence of the Grand Seignor and the Divan.

of being accused of speaking too freely of
the events of the war and laying the fault
on the government.

NORFOLK, May 14.

The ship Union, captain Remington, arrived yesterday from Rotterdam, which place he left on the 28th day of March.— Captain R. brings no papers but says, that it was reported, and generally believed, that the grand army under Bonaparte had been defeated with great loss. Captain R. says an army of 60,000 men was collecting at the Hague, in order to march and reinforce the grand army; on the day he left Rotterdam he saw the city guards of that place cross the Briel, on their way to the general rendezvous at the Hague.

MONDAY, MAY 18.

The ship Hetty, Capt. Day, of this port, was left at Leghorn, March 1st, detained by a French corsair.

From an attentive perusal of the correspondence which past between the Commandant of Fort Johnson, and the Captain of the British sloop of war Driver, we decline publishing it. We view the letter from the latter, as an unwarrantable insult to our government, and which, no doubt, will meet with the severest censure from his own. As we understand that an express has been sent with it to the President, it will be most proper that it should be presented to the public, from that source. But the blame must rest upon our country—While its administration courts insult by its imbecility, and assumes a tone which it cannot support, we shall always be exposed to the insolence of the arrogant.— Was our harbor protected as it ought to be,
and to which its commercial importance so justly entitles it, no solitary vessel would dare to insult us. While we thus express our opinion of the letter of the British commander, we must be allowed to say, that we regret extremely that the correspondence commenced in the way it did—the survivor in modo is oftentimes as effectual as an appeal to force, and always more acceptable.

Captain Strange, from Alicante, informs, that Bonaparte had demanded from the king of Spain, 30,000 men; that a part of the above troops had marched from Alicante for Madrid; and that on the 8th of March they left Madrid for France. It was reported at Alicante that the Tuscians were about to declare war against the United States.

Captain Gray, from Havanna, reports, that just before he sailed, the British man of war Elephant, of 74 guns, while chasing an American pilot boat schooner from La Vera Cruz, ran aground about 10 miles to the leeward of Havanna, where she lay 5 hours, and was obliged to throw most of her guns overboard before she got off, and sailed from the coast next day, supposed for Jamaica, to repair. The Spaniards had made preparations to attack the Elephant while aground. The pilot boat got safe into Havanna. [U.S.]
